Dedication

WITH deep grief and heavy hearts we mourn the passing of our beloved Headmaster, Mr. John F. Roche, taken from us in sudden death on Easter Monday, April the seventh.

It will be ever an inspiration to remember this soul so strong in the right, so staunch in his devotion to the sincere, the genuine, and the forthright. Of faith and love and charity he wove a pattern of days and years. He exemplified in simple daily living those high spiritual values from which alone proceed the virtues of tolerance, benevolence, and interior peace.

May his deep and tranquil trust in the Divine Will teach us, in the darkness of our bereavement, to see in our loss the working of God's Holy Purpose.

It is our earnest prayer that his stricken family will draw strength and hope from the Easter promise spoken to all those who mourn: "I am the Resurrection and the Life . . . whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die!"

Dear Faculty and Students:

John F. Roche first came to this school in 1928 as Head of the Mathematics Department. He was later transferred to Roslindale High School, a great loss to us. He so won our respect and affection that ever since that time, whenever it appeared that our school was to have a change of Headmasters, it was our fervent wish that he would be the one chosen. He, too, had hoped some day to come back again to us.

At long last these hopes were realized. He always spoke of his appointment to Charlestown High School as Headmaster as "coming back home". We who had worked with him previously felt, indeed, that a loved member of the family had returned. Many of your older brothers and sisters who had been his pupils felt the same way. These past four months have been very happy ones, for both teachers and pupils. He radiated a gladness which was reflected in each one of us. He possessed that kind of happiness that has its roots in unselfishness and he found joy in working for the well-being of those around him. His buoyant, cheerful outlook on life and his cordial friendliness made the school days pass along smoothly and harmoniously.

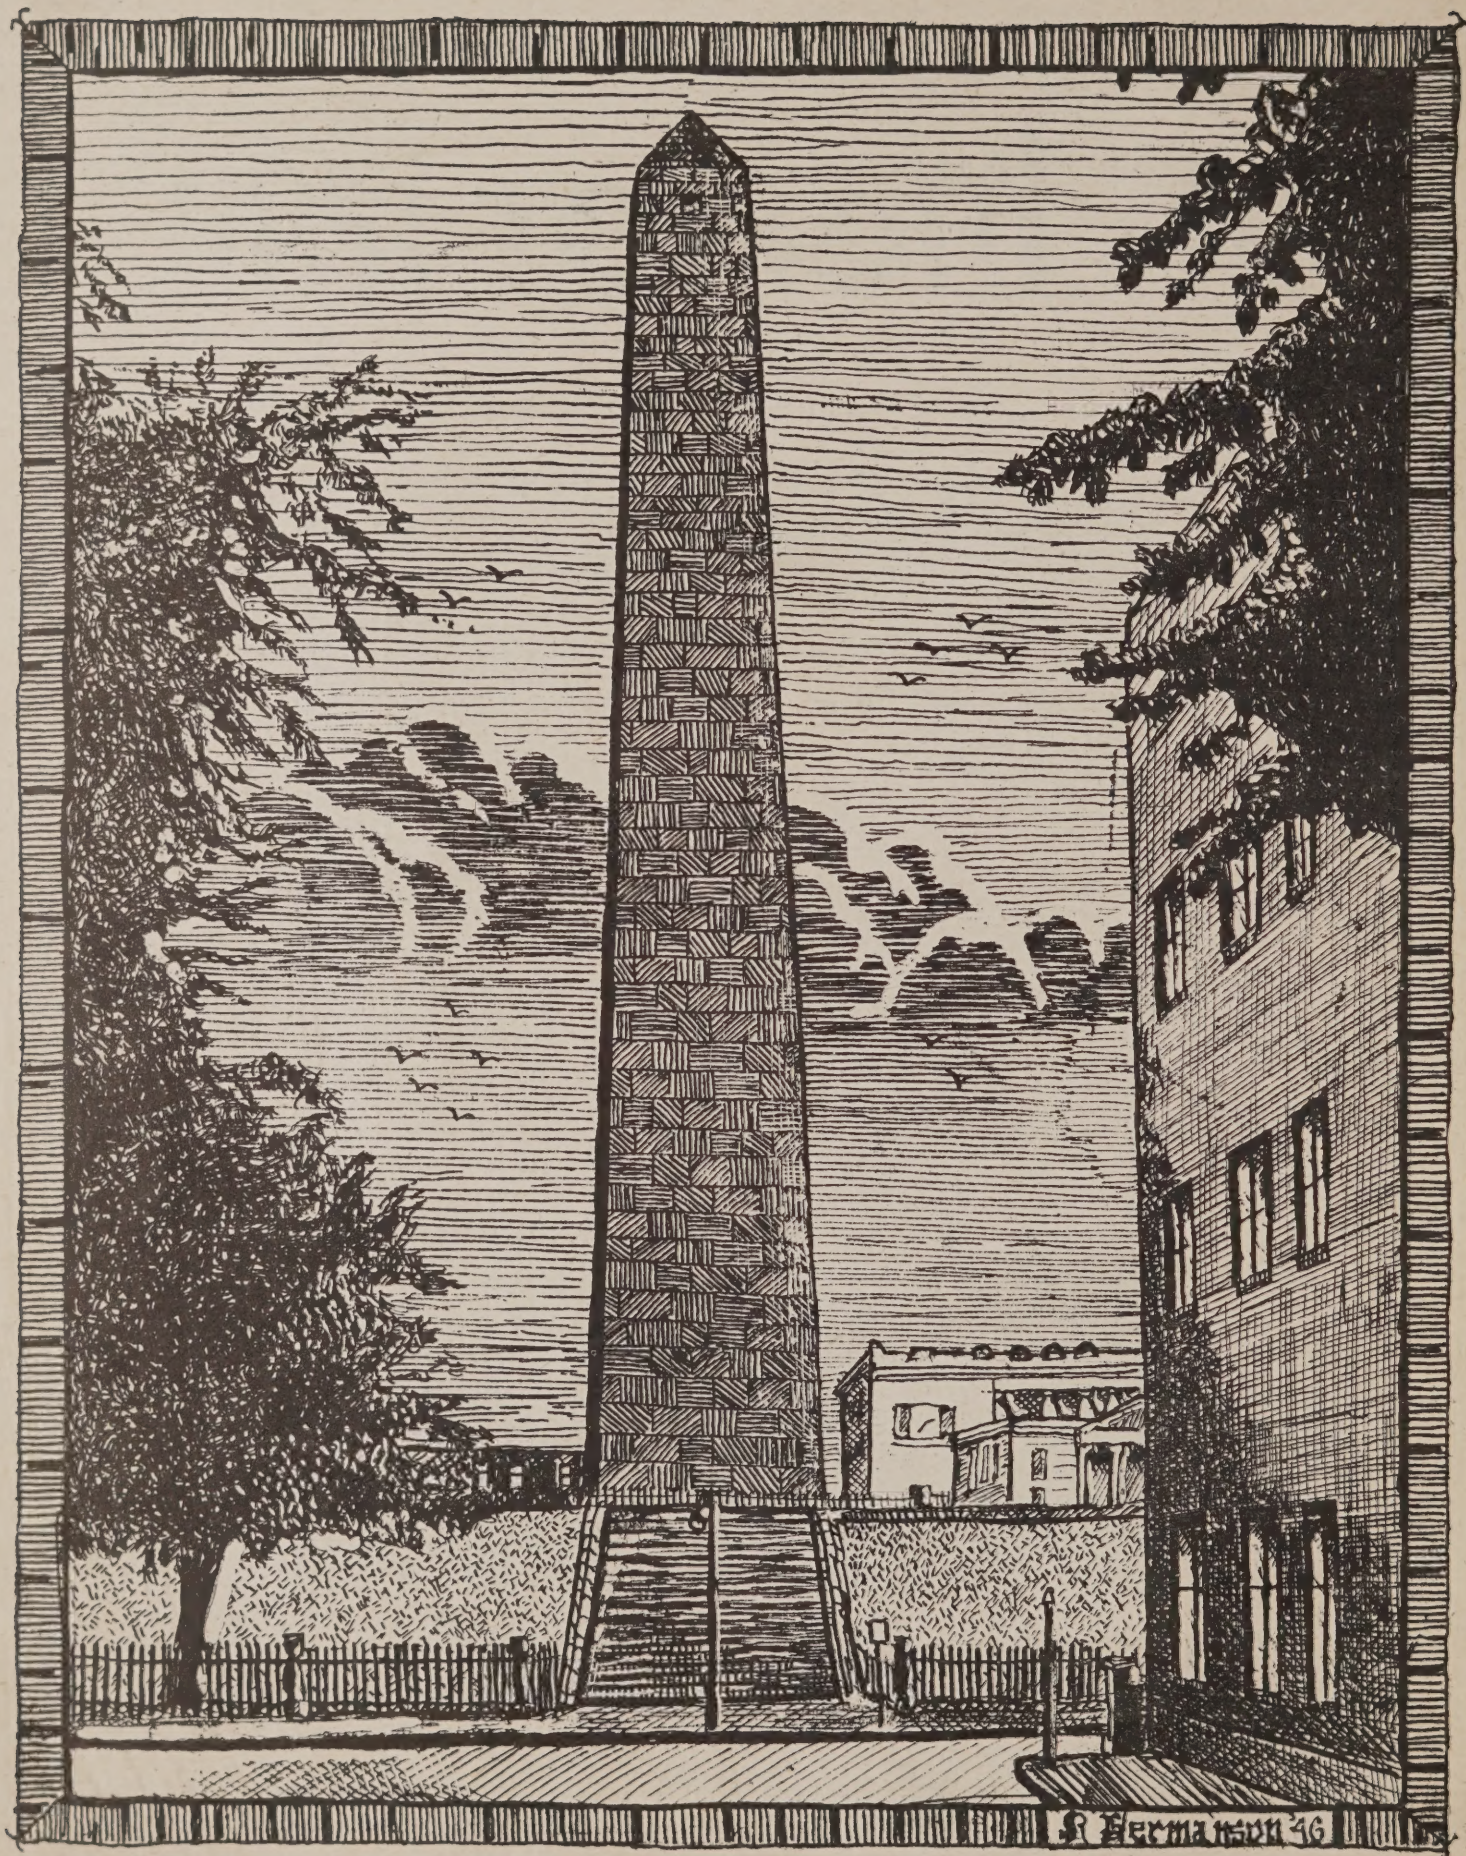

He left us on Easter Monday, while the glorious Easter promise of resurrection, immortality, and peace was so strong in our hearts. He has entered that higher life for which he was so completely prepared. There, we know, he will continue to do God's work as he did here on earth.

Tribute to a Friend

ELIZABETH JOSEPHINE MARTIN

For thirty years Elizabeth Josephine Martin was a member of the Faculty of Charlestown High School, where she served with distinction in the Department of Mathematics.

To her pupils she was the ideal teacher--a patient and wise counselor. Always she held them to her own high standards, and her contagious enthusiasm touched off the spark which fired even the most unscholarly to accomplishment.

To her pupils and to her colleagues alike her outstanding quality was friendliness. Hers was a sociable nature. She loved and attracted people of all ages and in all walks of life. There was fun where she was, for her keen sense of humor was ever brimming over, and her enjoyment of plain everyday situations made even the commonplace seem exciting. A few moments spent with her in the midst of a busy day made those about her feel relaxed and rested.

She had a brilliant, analytical mind, and her clear judgment could be depended upon in any situation. Complete dignity and integrity were hers--and perfect self-control. She never stooped to insincerity. Yet she was tolerant of the shortcomings of others.

She built her memorial as she lived and worked and laughed and loved among us. There will be tender thoughts enshrining her in the hearts of unnumbered grown-up boys and girls, who will the better appreciate the beauty of truth and orderliness because she showed it to them; and in the hearts of her associates, who are the richer because one walked among them with a shining light.

To You, Mr. Hawes

After twenty-four years of teaching in the Commercial Department of Charlestown High School, Mr. George Malcolm Hawes has now retired to a well-earned leisure.

What a kindly, genial presence Mr. Hawes was amongst us! We all felt instinctively the generous, warm-hearted soul of the man--so calm, so steady, so optimistic always. He has the kind of personality which is immensely vital and, at the same time, is quiet and self-contained.

Such a raconteur! How his keen wit, his gleeful chuckle over some rare bit of humor, his dry, tongue-in-cheek style of telling a story, enlivened the school day for us. Teachers, students, alumni--everyone loves Mr. Hawes. He is Charlestown's own Mr. Chips!

At school we saw Mr. Hawes as a teacher, and few of us had any comprehension of the many and various facets of his versatile personality. A Harvard graduate, he is a true scholar, remarkably well-oriented and keenly alive to the complex issues of our times. A veteran of World War I, he contributed to the recent war effort in many concrete and practical ways. A musician, he plays the piano, the organ, and other instruments, and is highly respected for his sincere musicianship. An amateur photographer, he has most generously beautified and enriched our Year Books year after year. A traveler, he has made firm friends in his many visits across the seas, and kept these friendships through the years. A gemmologist, he cuts and polishes semi-precious stones for his friends as a hobby. We could go on indefinitely with his talents.

It would be impossible to imagine a man more free from pettiness and intolerance than Mr. Hawes. Such things have no place in his sincere, honest, all-embracing, and all-encompassing charity. Our school is not the same without him. Other teachers can teach what he taught, but no one else but Mr. Hawes can be what he was to us here at Charlestown. We shall miss the many acts of kindness and of love that so endeared him to us.

To you, wise teacher, true scholarly gentleman, genial great-hearted friend, we say: "God bless you and keep you always!"

Good-bye!

Presenting the B

Orchids to our editor-in-chief! What a labor of love Mary Ruby's Senior year has been. A jewel, indeed, is our Mary.....Herb Sherrick is now a member of the Army Air Corps. Do you think you can come home for the Prom--in uniform? Oh, pul-eeee-se!.....We're flattered as all get-out to have a super tennis star like Bill McManus among us. So modest about his prowess, too!.....We expected to see our cheer leaders show up on the football field with laryngitis. It's still a mystery how they managed to emit the first C-H-A-R-L-E-S-T-O-W-N. Well, they certainly spark plugged the whole school last fall.

Some of us really have to work hard B.T.P. (Before the Prom) but Lil Braudis is right over in the Spencer assisting the Secretary. Ho! Hum! Snare one for us, will you, Lil?.....Do we get that certain gala feeling that gives such a boost to our ego when Jimmy Allwood and Frankie Mahoney give us harmony in their groovy fashion. This musical twosome shows some nice teamwork.....Congratulations to Jackie Carver for winning the Franklin Medal in History. When she is teaching, she can hang it up on the schoolroom wall and say: "Now, children, back in the days when I was a Brain.....!"

"That man Shakespeare could write!" So says John O'Donnell. "Yeh, they should get Humphrey Bogart to play MacBeth. Jazz up the old Bard of Avon and he's good!".....We like the category, "Smooth Joes." Yes, we'll put Joe Penchuck right in this groove.....Don't you think that Henry Scott is debonair, smooth, smiling, easy to say "Hi Chum" to when you meet him?....."Printing is an art." So we said to each other when we saw Joe Sullivan's lettering. It's well-nigh professional. Just turn to the Sports page and grab a peep for yourself.....Sadie Canny looks so blond, so gentle, and so demure, but you should see her rolling up that score in bowling. Strrrrrrike!.....Walter Giampietro is some sprinter when the 11:57 bell rings for luncheon. With that speed he should be a top notcher for track.....Dick Oatway should join the Ice Capades. Does he cut a figure on ice! Off, too!.....Well, Seniors, whether you wear your bobby socks straight-up, sloppy-up, or cuffed, you'll have sox appeal if you go in for an exotic range of colors like Mary Nagel, Mary Peters, and Millie Fallon.

"Every little breeze seems to whisper 'Louise'." We'll dedicate that sweet song to our own Louise Harrington.....That Mother Nature should have shown such favoritism! Do we lank-haired gals look with green-eyed envy at star athlete Frank Daley's crop of blonde curls!... ..Where was Duke Winsor last Halloween that he walked around for days afterwards with a skeleton's hand? What ghoulish cavorting!.....If we were producing "It's Tulip Time In Holland," what a perfect lead we'd have in Louise Vogelhuber! Wouldn't she be a hit with her blond hair and sea-green eyes? She's a golden girl in looks as well as in worth!.....Tall, dark, an' handsome. We got that type, too. Just turn your eyes on Jackie Crawford. What glow! What dazzle!.....Our vote goes to Louis Batas.

As the solid, dependable, reliable citizen of the future. He's for the square deal always!.....When the north wind doth blow, C. H. S. seems to favor the kerchief. We'll say these head coverings are eye-catching, guaranteed to turn heads and influence Cupid, especially on Phyl Belliveau, Margie Walsh, Ann DiDonato, and Mary Farren. "Mais oui" --(that's French for "Natch"!)

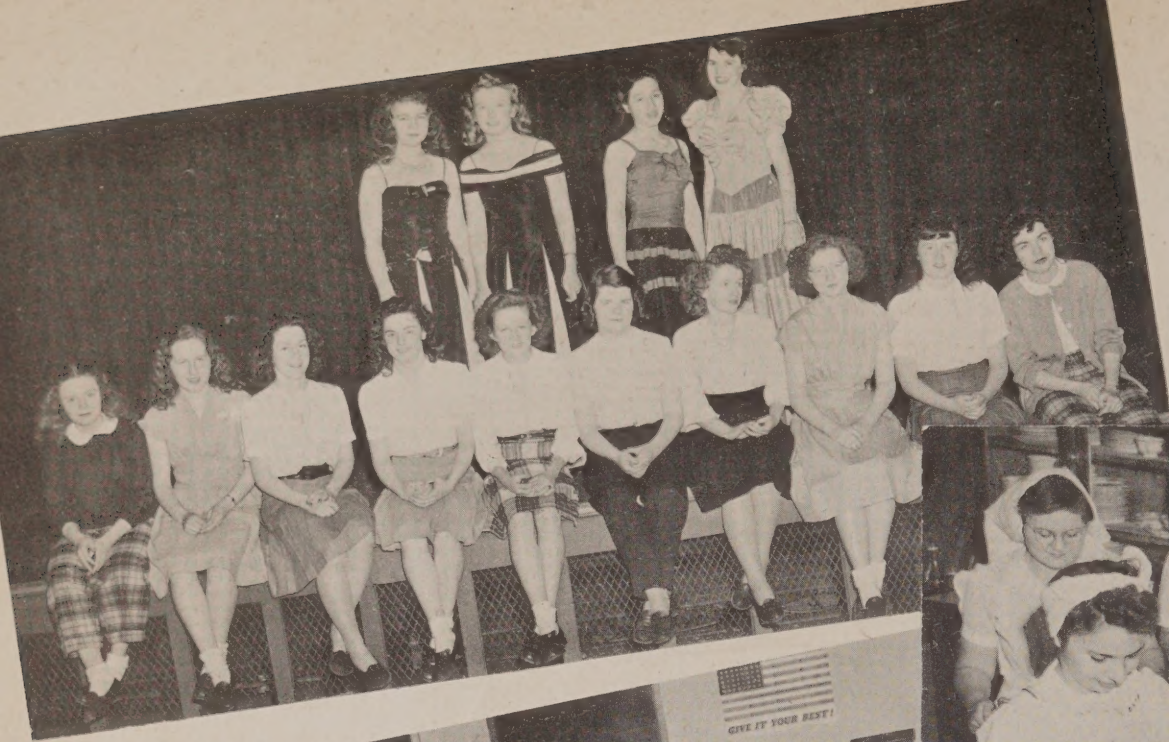

Scoops

We are told that Tom O'Toole can imitate birds and airplanes. Why not come nearer earth, Tom, and give an imitation of a boy in love with school? Gee, I bet the teachers would be glad to listen in on that one!Why don't we have a roller skaters' review? I can just see a spotlight, a petite figure with golden tresses poised for a takeoff--introducing Miss Mary Sloane!.....So Don Lutz is by way of becoming a big-time photographer? As a career it seems to provide enough of the folding stuff to make it most attractive.....We were wondering who had the greater chest expansion--Ed Doherty or Ernie Marottoli? Supermen both!Don't you think Barbara Pepper has a radiant charm? When she enters a room, it is just as if another light were turned on. She's a sweetheart!.....What an exuberant personality Joe McDonald has! If you hear a loud, joyous "Ha! Ha!", you know Joe is brightening the school day with a joke or two.....Gracious and courteous are Tony Marino and Mario Rotondi. How is it you always say and do the nice thing at the right time? Hear the applause, boys?.....Too bad the old-fashioned Spelling Bee has gone out. We bet Mel Connelly could spell the whole country down. She's a whiz!.....Mary Blute is like a devastating atomic bomb. Where did you get that explosive personality, Mary?

June is such a melodious, euphonistic word. There are June roses, June Brides----and, of course, there is June Little, too! Lovely as a sparkling zircon!.....Here's something to cheer about. Did all you Seniors know that our Tim Lehane won Honorable Mention from the Press for his outstanding work in football this fall?.....Even if John Houten had a car, he'd prefer to ride in the "El". Fascinating Sophomores, Jaunty Juniors, Sophisticated Seniors--they all ride the "El", and they all know John.....What breaks some people get in life! There's Flo Aylward with such a complexion that she couldn't improve it with anything sold over Lizzie Arden's counter. Strictly smooth!.....We've been wondering what gives Aud Ascolese that breezy air of perfect balance in motion. Could roller skating be her secret?.....Three cheers to the boy who dares to be different. Now, Al Carroll is a walking illustration of rugged individualism even to the bow tie. We're all for it, Al!.....In a lighthearted, carefree way John McManus's school days go by.....Boys like Jimmy Rose and Francis Sheehan can get over every hurdle without a groan or a gripe. Nice work!.....Buddy Kiehn just naturally sets the stage for a happy acquaintance when he meets you. And that's a gift, brother!

Have you ever noticed, girls, what a good listener Grace Olsson is? Take a tip, you chatterboxes. It's the attentive listeners who flatter the little ego in us all!.....We hear Joe Sablone is reputed to have real political potentialities. Let's hope it takes him to the top in a hurry. We need a politician of Joe's calibre.....Ann Geswell and Katherine Gearin make a vivacious pair to form the hub of a circle of happy, laughing Seniors. A wheel of gladness opens around them.....Isn't Helen Oatway demure and sweet? One of those girls that, in trailing chiffon, looks so lovely your heart just turns handsprings!.....

If you want to know the meaning of a word, don't bother looking it up in the dictionary. Just ask Jerry Van Leeuwen. Noah Webster's got nothing on him!.....Flash to Bill Sullivan! So you like red heads? We have all shades: titian, copper, carrot, bronze, auburn, mahogany. Don't get in a rut, Bill. Look around!

Charlestown

Gay as a giggle, lively as the jingle of a tambourine, and chatter-boxing excitedly come Pat Bassett and Barbara Dugan. Something is abrewing.....Frank Campagna should make a try for Notre Dame. At least he has one qualification-the nick-name "Irish.".....Very few boys can display a notebook that will earn them laurels. Maurice Goggin has a prize edition that's rave-rating!.....If Dolly Page looks quizzically at you, boys, it is the aftermath of finding out that Dante's inspiration was the lovely Lady Beatrice.....Light-hearted and gay, Bob Lucarotti has a heart-winning smile that always gives us a lift.....We hear that Chick Cushing is out looking for the first crocus. Why? Oh, because spring means baseball.....The way Pat Herman rides a horse, she could step right into a Hollywood Western. Does she look super-smooth in her riding habit!.....Why is Ralph Carvalho always quoting, as he goes into English IV, the same passage from the "Ancient Mariner": "Alone, alone, all, all, alone"? We girls aren't complaining, Ralph. Quite the contrary, Suh!

Whenever a bevy of Senior girls whizz by you at 2:30, don't be alarmed. It's just a squad of eager beavers dashing to work. What zeal! What zest! And what lucre!.....Helen Marcella is well named. She has permanently marcelled curls even in the rain. Lucky, lucky gal!.....Tall, lithe, and supple, Paul Neves is super-duper at basketball. But why not? If he stood on tiptoes, he could place the ball in the basket.....A happy, chatty trio is Alberta O'Neil, Peggy Leahy, and Anna Rae. Even in the daily lunch box stampede, you'll always find them arm in arm.....Do we envy Ed Carmody enjoying his delicious Rotary Club luncheons at the Statler Hotel every Wednesday noon, while we're munching on our liverwurst sandwiches. And he doesn't even have to count his calories, either. There's no justice.....Ed Donovan should be called "The '47 Minute Man", because every minute of the day he's planning something new. Resourceful brain!.....well, it's a poor social order that can't support an aristocracy--at least, so we console ourselves with our fifteen pounds of books when we see the trolley sweep by us with Jeannie Darling, Doris Leduc, Dotty Nolan, and Helen McGlinchey riding in state.

Did we throw out our chests and feel like success when Phyllis Maher was chosen to act as secretary to the National Council of Social Studies meeting at the Hotel Statler. Super! Super!.....Um-m-mm, aren't Frank Herne and Al Giguere the Beau Brummels? Smooth style. But, def!.....John Garcia is always quick to smile and say a pleasant word. Say, John, give us a scoop--what was in that "message" you received? Huh?....."Oh, You Beautiful Doll"! Well, our '47 choice is Tess Corbett. Hasn't she the big blue eyes, flaxen hair, and lovely skin? ~~MMMMMMMMM-MMMMMMMMM~~.....A "Midwinter Night's Dream" to John Hufnagle, nifty President of the Y.M.C.A. Dance Committee, is a gala attendance.....Cheers for Ruth Gill! She rolled up a score of 105 for 1947 instead of 1948. Welcome to our class.....Marie Potter, too, gets cheers for her '47 diploma. Plucky gal!

Flap! Flap! went our surprised ears when we heard a Senior say: "Gee, do you think Snow-White would let us take one of her dwarves to the Prom? I'd feel right at home with Dopey!" Ouch.....

Don't you think Ethel Peyton is poised but oh, so cute! Quite the subdeb. And she sing contralto. We like that throaty quality in her voice. Individual and romantic!

Chatter

The mecca of all eyes is Al Parrino. When it comes to suaveness and smoothness, does he know his Emily Post!..... Translated, "DeAngelis" means "of the angels". Don't let it fool you. There's a gleam in Florrie's eyes that we've never seen in a stained-glass window.....Tut, tut, Margie McNeil, don't tell us that it was a kickball that kissed you. We like to tease Margie just to see her pretty dimples flash at us!..... John O'Malley always has a store of anecdotes and fascinating tales with which to regale us.....Can Bob Sullivan charm when he spins a yarn! Pretty solid, eh what?

Pennies from heaven! Well, Mike Barry certainly gets the money out when the Senior dances come along. That lad could sell us Boston Common for house lots.....If Tom Byrne really does become a jockey, he'll be a sure bet. He could ride one of Bing Crosby's sad nags to glory.....Is '47 knee deep in wolves! Just to name a few, we'll give you _____, ! Don't be an idgit! Do you think we'd be so dumb?..... A versatile lass is Jeannie Darling. No matter how accelerated the pace, she can tap right in step with the teen-age parade.....A fellow with a beautiful whistle usually uses it on one of two things--a dog or a wolf cry. Girls, Bill Fiske positively has no dog. BEWARE! (You know how to whistle, don't you? Just pucker up your lips and blow!).....Robert Service is Jerry Coulter's favorite poet. How about reciting "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" for us at graduation? That ought to mow 'em down..... We never know whether John Gulinello is kidding or not--there's such a roguish twinkle in his dark eyes.

We read this beautiful sentiment the other day: "Only those who are eager to share their possessions with their fellowmen will be capable of realizing their highest selves." And to think some of our Seniors are so scrimy and miserably stingy over a few chemistry homelessons or a wee bit of book report. How some people will hold out on a pal!.....Why are all our handsome swains seen so often in the third floor corridor? As Charlie Fee would say, in his debonair, suave, inimitable style, "What's up, Doc?.....Holiday festivities rustle in with a swish when we have gals like Flo Aylward and Ruthie Kelley on our dance committee.....Maybe we're wrong, but isn't "L'amour, L'amour" the French for "hubba-hubba"? How about it, Mary Kenneally?.....Special commendation to El Gregory who has already matriculated at Salem Teachers College. An apple to you, teacher.....We've noticed that, since a certain ex-G.I. returned to C.H.S. a goodly number of Senior girls prefer blonds, too. You wouldn't have to be a Sherlock Holmes to figure that one out, now, would you, Anthony Lepore?Joe Pizzarello's quite a versatile lad. He likes books; he draws very well--one of those quiet chaps that's always surprising you with a new talent.....Certainly a Dodge car is date-bait these days. Do you find it so, Joe Tropeano?.....We think Reggie O'Brien is about as Senior-perfect in looks as they come. How about it?.....

Red Charbonnier is a doer. He'll set a goal and, hard tho' the road may be, he'll make it--but with ease!.....Of course, Ruthie Bamberg was always popular, but her popularity among the girls as the Prom draws nearer is overwhelming. By the way, Ruth, how is that handsome brother of yours these days?.....Quips, puns, and pungent wit--well, you might know Jimmy Gaouette and John Clafferty are on hand to give us a lively moment. What comedians!

Hot Off

Before graduation day, won't somebody find out the meaning of the mysterious "17"? John Burton refuses to give. Break down and tell, won't you?.....Did the Senior girls go for Elizabeth Barrett Browning's sonnets? The favorite seemed to be: "How I do love thee; let me count the ways." We suppose the girls were thinking of--we don't dare guess!.....Lucky Margie Eldridge--on her weekly trips to the Spencer, she collects--class dues, we mean!.....Just Call Me Mister! An infectious smile, good humor, all add up to ex G.I. Elmer Mulcahy. If his buddies liked him only half as much as his classmates do, he must have enjoyed his tour of duty.....We're so glad that we studied versification. Now we know that Lolly's name is perfect amphibrach trimeter--Dolores Juanita Masaoy. Aren't we smart? It's a gift!.....It would be a poor class that couldn't boast of at least a few candidates for Conover models. Two outstanding names for model fame would be Irene Kelley and Bernie Harvey. What superb carriage!.....It's really great to have Lois Wiltse back with us again. How about a gab fest some day, Lois, so you can tell us all about Iowa, "where the tall corn grows"? Anything else tall and interesting out there, Lois? M ~~mmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmm~~ uh?.....Get the tums. There goes Jimmie O'Leary into Donovan and Fallon's for another one of his favorite concoctions: a walnut fudge sundae with syrup and pecans, and an extra scoop of strawberry and vanilla on top. Sit still our aching stomachs!.....Our admiration for Bob Anderson keeps running up like a temperature every time we see another one of his clever sport cartoons. As an artist, he's strictly on the beam and his work is jam packed with talent.

Speaking of tresses, here's a gorgeous trio for you: Theresa Woods, gay and golden; Pat Lordan, bright and blond; Katherine Kennedy, captivating and coppery!.....Why are they bothering their brain cells in Hollywood about who's to be the hero of the "Miracle of the Bells"? Why don't they send for Charlie? We'll give an Academy Award to Charlie Bell any-time.....Too bad there was such a shortage of thumb tacks or certain of the presidential campaign posters would have been strewn all over Monument Square. Ah, well, girls, it's nice to vote with your heart as well as your head. Don't blush, Dan Hurley!.....A sweet face to warm the cockles of your heart, did you say? May we suggest Helen Reynolds?.....The teamwork between a girl and her clothes is always effective feminine strategy. A little glitter adds glamour, especially when it comes in the form of a cute chatelaine. Did you notice that tricky one on Jean Iula?..... We hear that Ducky Hughes and Paul Toomey were the presidential campaign managers. Their theme song was "Come, Hero Mine".....

Are we proud of our top-flight students. There's plenty worth cheering for when we see the scholastic records of boys like Jim Hunter, Bill Stanley, and Joe Herosy. All honor to our intelligentsia!..... Swing, Maestro! We're talking to Bob Brooks, who plays that big base drum. Hep! Hep! Keep in step! His technique is something to watch. Which is your favorite toy, Bob, your sketching pad or your drum stick?

The Press

.....To see Greta Bahia at a softball game is a must. She goes through the outfield like a breeze.....So you want to be a reporter, Honey Callahan? Well, as a news sleuth, you certainly will be able to wiggle in and out of tight spots and step easily through hairbreath experiences. What a sylph!.....Give Clyde Carpenter a live wire topic and can that boy us a fast flow of language! Town Meetings are a cinch for him..... Charlie McGlinchey must be mighty popular these days with a pretty sister in the Senior class. Oh, brother!

No wonder Joe Fortuna is a cracker-jack jitterbug! After winning the Lightweight Championship of the Continental Grove, he is hep to all the steps. See you at the Prom, Joe!.....Methinks Ann Gill, Dot McGah, and Ruth Cavanaugh would have been considered strictly smooth in the dear Gay Nineties with those heavenly waistlines. We merely turn chartreuse with envy in 1947. Femininity personified!.....We hear Charlie Poore is one of the school's best drummers. Groovy! One of the most amiable fellows in the school, too.....At the beginning of the year we girls gave ourselves a pep talk: "Girls, be friendly. Smile at the boys in the corridor. After all, we're just one, big, happy, Senior family." Well, we've smiled; we've grinned; we've said, "Hi" and "Hey"; we've nodded; we've even fluttered our eyelashes on occasions. So what? We're still out gunning for a man for the Prom. But Annie Oakley said, "You can't get a man with a gun!" Any suggestions?

A boyish grin and a quiet, genial personality plus good sportsmanship all add up to Joe Joyce.....Eddie Mahan is a fellow everyone speaks of admiringly. We have succumbed to his ready smile.....As we dash hither, yon, there, and here, we marvel at the unruffled poise of Elda Corti. Brains will show, won't they?.....When John Carney plays his trumpet, it's good listening. You'll like it.....Mighty nice of Bud Gearin, Class of '48, to give us a slice of his talent as a sport cartoonist. Thanks, Bud.....You know, we have a hunch our Kay O'Brien will be getting a law degree from Portia in the near future. Maybe she'll pass the bar and be a Junior partner in the firm someday. We can dream, can't we?.....There's always a smile and a gay word when Joe Noe passes a pal. A good Joe!..... Wasn't John Barrymore called "The Profile"? Well, that honor goes to Frank Ryan by unanimous consent of the gals of '47.

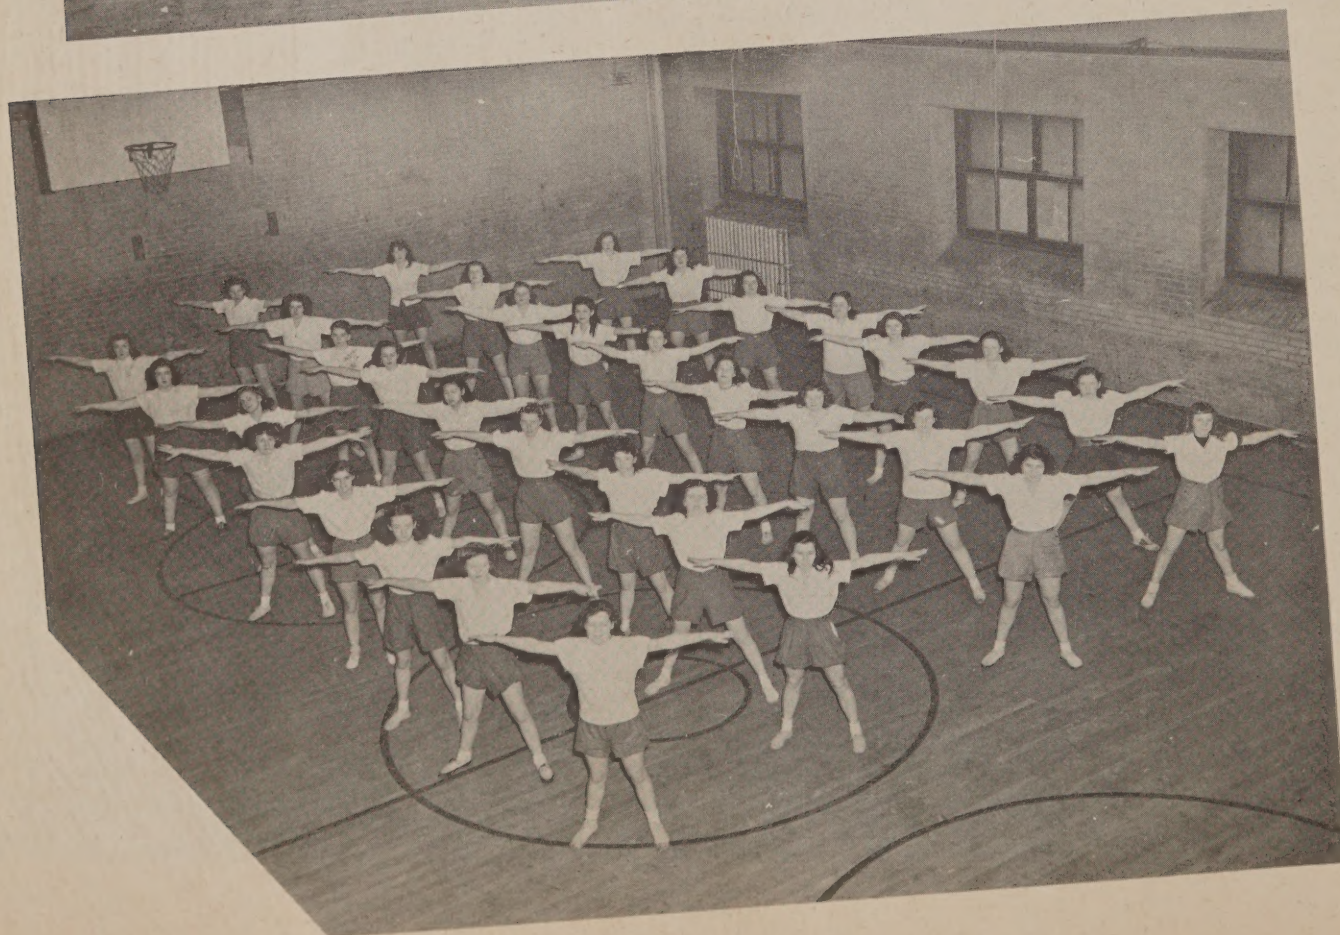

Now that we have come to the end of our school life with its triumphs and its tears, its smiles and its sighs, we look back over our three years, viewing them as a whole--a fait accompli! We are pointing with trembling fingers at the report cards we took home to our fond parents. We are curling up at the toes over the conduct slips we piled up against ourselves. We are turning sun-set flame at the memory of the big to-do we made over assignments and examinations. Oh, well, after all the day-dreaming and the star-gazing, we made those diplomas. Let's frame 'em with gold frames!

PART-TIME COOPERATIVE, ELECTRICAL, INDUSTRIAL COURSE
Edward B. Flaherty, Coordinator

Electrical instruction was incorporated as a vital part of the Charlestown High School curriculum in 1917, and has now achieved a maximum enrollment of 120 boys.

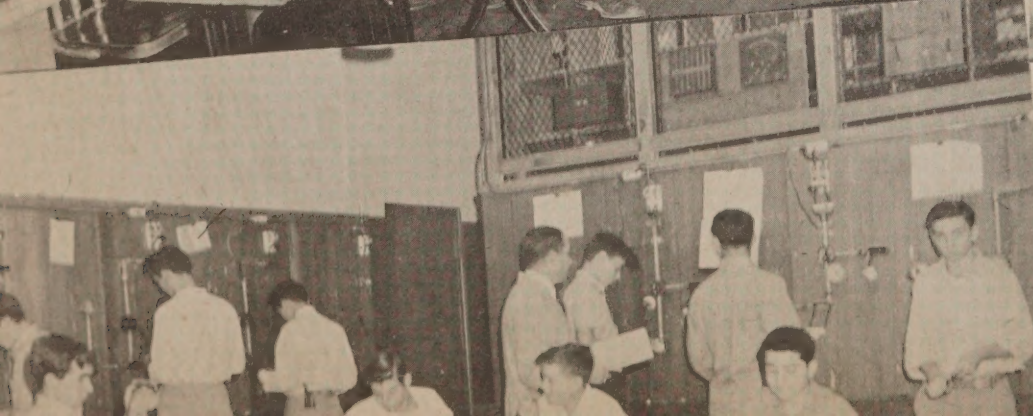

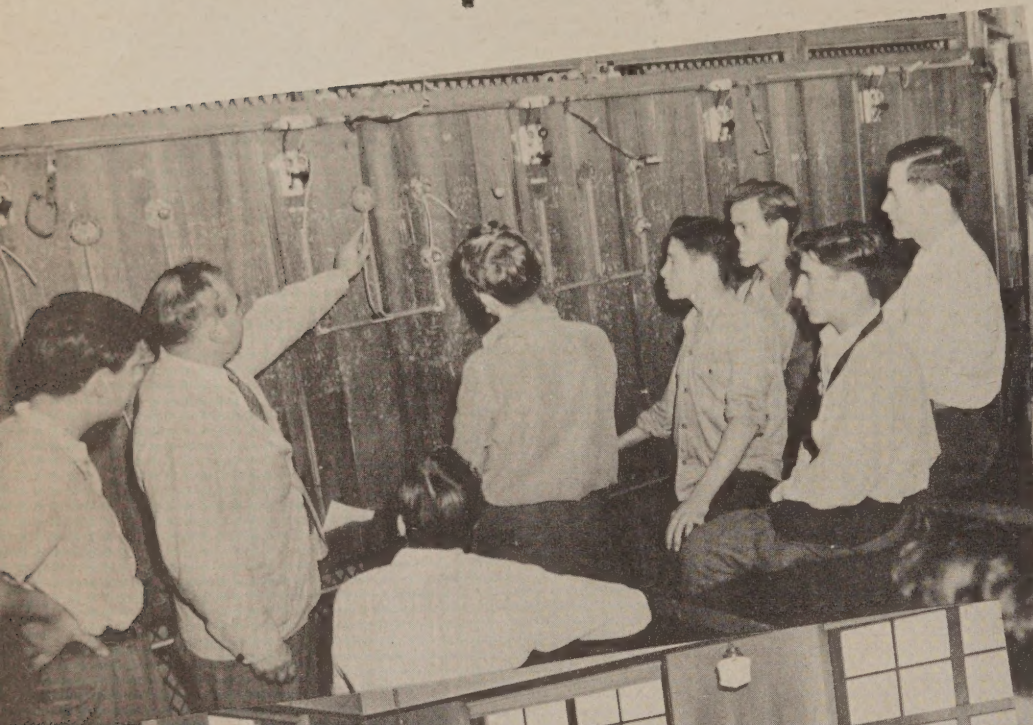

Some of the outstanding advantages of this part-time cooperative electrical course are:

1. Boys learn the electrical trade from a natural setting. When they reach the age of sixteen, they are gradually placed in industry. They work each alternate week in outside electrical establishments; the other week is spent in school studying related, academic work.
2. This outside-of-school employment makes a smoother transition into the working world. That a more adult point of view is gained by this definite contact with business is shown by the serious attitude of the cooperative boys toward their academic work and, also, by the desire to fulfill graduate requirements with high standing.
3. Since the pupils work for wages, a feeling of self-support and independence, as well as a realization of the value of money, is developed.
4. If their progress and workmanship are satisfactory, the boys often obtain permanent employment in the industrial establishments where they have trained.
5. When the pupils of the cooperative course fulfill the requirements of the twelfth grade, they are given a certificate indicating achievement. However, they are also obligated to put in the fifth year (another year beyond high school requirements) in industry, in order to round out their electrical experience and to realize the objective of the cooperative course, that is, prove themselves capable artisans at their chosen trade. On the satisfactory completion of this fifth year, they will be given a diploma which has the same prestige as that (awarded by any) other course conducted by Charlestown High School.

When the cooperative pupils are in school, they are encouraged to participate in all extra-curricular activities.
